Women's Health, Wealth & Justice

Global Authority in Women's Health, Wealth and Justice

Dominnique Karetos is one of the most recognised global voices in women's health, wealth and justice. She brings more than a decade of pioneering leadership at the intersection of investment, intelligence and impact, playing a central role in shaping the future of women's health, wealth and agency on the global stage.

She spent years commercially building brands and shaping consumer behaviour across Africa, the United States and Europe. As the former CEO and Founder of Healthy Pleasure Group, the first global ecosystem dedicated to sexual health and technology, she created and coined the term sexual health and technology and built the commercial, educational and cultural infrastructure that transformed a taboo category into a global movement. From this foundation she co created Amboy Street Ventures, the first venture fund dedicated to sexual and women's health technology. As Amboy's General Partner and Angel Investor, she invests in founders advancing the health, agency and economic development of women. She has personally invested in the sector since 2015 and sits on advisory boards of women's and sexual health companies across the world.

A clinical sexologist and strategic industry advisor, she guides policy, corporates, early stage Founders, CEO's, brands and emerging innovators on how to navigate taboo categories, build commercial success and drive long term social permission for healthy sexualities as essential to the good of humankind.

Her global speaking spans SXSW, Women in Tech Global Summit Paris, Management Today, HLTC, Women Innovation Health Summits, Hampton Tech Week, Sigma Health Tech Malta, sTARTUp Day Estonia and Longevity forums to name a few. She is the Founding Adviser of W. Group and their resident host for Women's Health Week in New York and Europe. With eight years co-hosting on BBC Radio, she brings mastery in storytelling, interviewing and challenging the status quo.

Her talks are described as inspiring, provocative and deeply influential. She is known for making complex, culturally charged topics simple, accessible and strategically actionable.

She serves as Chief Impact Officer of Blue Rose Alliance, preventing human trafficking and grooming, and raises funds for Her100 safe houses supporting survivors of sex trafficking in Southern Africa. Dominnique continues to lead at the intersection of investment, intelligence and impact, championing the belief that women's agency is foundational to human flourishing, gender equity and economic prosperity.
